

Project: Legacy Park Handicap Renovations

Recipient: City of Syracuse

Location: Syracuse, Utah

Purpose: The requested funds will make improvements to one of Syracuse City's parks as part of an effort to increase access to the facility for children with disabilities. The project will expand the playground and create an area where children of all skills and abilities can play together. In addition to needing to participate in physical activities, children with disabilities need interaction with other children. Very few inclusive playgrounds exist in Utah, making this project unique in its ability to serve the needs of children with disabilities in the city and surrounding communities. Playground features will include wheelchair accessible equipment, swings with seating options to meet varying abilities, sensory areas, rubberized ground coverings, and a variety of other options to ensure access for all children.
